INTRODUCTION:

I. In his famous painting entitled, “The Last Supper,” Leonardo da Vinci sought to capture the dramatic moment when Jesus announced to His disciples that one of them will betray Him.

A. Carlo Bertelli, writing for National Geographic magazine says of this famous painting, “Turmoil disrupts the Passover table as the twelve disciples react to Christ’s forewarning. In capturing this moment before the traitor is revealed, Leonardo plumbed a psychological depth unknown in previous paintings of the Last Supper.”

1. We’re not going to try to analyze da Vinci’s portrait of the Last Supper as so many others have done, but have you ever noticed that in the painting the disciples of Jesus are grouped in threes, and in each group of three, all the participants are seen expressing shock over Jesus’ announcement – all, that is, except for the betrayer.

a. Among the groups that Leonardo da Vinci painted are John, Peter and Judas. John sits with his eyes closed, stunned by the news of a betrayer. Peter is clearly outraged and grips a small sword behind his back as if he is about to strike the betrayer—whoever that betrayer may be.

b. Judas is sitting at the table in front of Peter. His face is in the shadows. But in his hand, Judas is portrayed clutching a leather pouch – the pouch that holds the thirty pieces of silver he had been given to betray the Savior.

c. Sadly, Judas is clutching more than just a leather pouch containing thirty pieces of silver, he is also holding on to a secret that only he and Jesus know. Judas is the betrayer.

II. The story of Judas and the Last Supper shows something wonderful about the Mind of Christ.

A. It shows us the Savior’s ability to accept others in spite of the sins that plague their spirits.

1. This is not to say Jesus simply overlooks sin, or in some way makes light of the fact that men are sinners.

   a. Rather it speaks of the Savior’s ability to see men as they were created to be, and as they can become once again – sinless and pure.

B. We also see in this story how Jesus demonstrates genuine love and concern for even the worst of sinners.
1. The apostle Paul speaks of this indescribable love God has for sinners in the 5th chapter of Romans.

   a. Romans 5:6-10 – He wrote, “For when we were still without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet perhaps for a good man someone would even dare to die. But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, having now been justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him. For if when we were enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved by His life.”

   b. Do you hear the words Paul used to describe those for whom Christ died? They are called “the ungodly,” “sinners,” and “enemies.” When Paul uses these words, he is really speaking about you and me – we all fit into this category.

   c. And yet, “God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us.”

2. The words Paul used here – “ungodly, sinner,” and “enemy” (enemy of God and Christ) – are be the same words we could use to describe Judas.
a. And yet, during this final evening Jesus spent with His disciples, He NEVER faltered in His love for ALL the disciples, including (and perhaps ESPECIALLY) Judas.

b. Do you remember the way John begins his record of this Last Supper?

c. John 13:1 – He said, “Now before the feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that His hour had come that He should depart from this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end.”

(1). “He loved them (including Judas) to the end.”

(2). That’s real, genuine, godly love. That’s love that can only come from the Mind of Christ.

C. Let’s take a moment to observe the events of the Last Supper as they unfold, and see how Jesus demonstrates godly compassion and love toward the very man who has become His betrayer.

BODY:

I. To begin, let’s FIRST try to understand something about Judas.

A. From the very beginning, Judas was chosen to be one of the twelve disciples of Jesus. (cf. Matthew 10:4; Mark 3:19; Luke 6:16)

1. That fact alone should tell us that Judas might have become great in the service of Jesus Christ – but something went terribly wrong.
a. Although Jesus had called Judas to be His follower – a man chosen to be among the inner-circle of disciples – Judas apparently never allowed himself to completely love Jesus in return.

2. As a result, Jesus knew Judas would eventually betray Him. And yet, Jesus loved Judas to the extent that the Lord gave him warning after warning.

a. After Jesus rejected the attempts of some of His followers to make Him a king, many of those same followers left Him and would follow Him no more.

(1). John 6:68-69 – Jesus then turned to His twelve disciples and asked them if they too were going to leave Him, to which Peter affirms “Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. Also we have come to believe and know that You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

(2). The next two verses (vs. 70-71) say, “Jesus answered them, ‘Did I not choose you, the twelve, and one of you is a devil?’ He spoke of Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon, for it was he who would betray Him, being one of the twelve.”
b. Obviously, the other disciples had no idea what was going on in the mind of Judas.

c. But Jesus knew. And so, He warned Judas.

B. Judas was not only one of the twelve, he was perhaps the most TRUSTED and the least SUSPECTED – he had been selected to be the treasurer of the funds on which Jesus and His disciples lived.

1. John 12:3-6 – Just two nights earlier, when Jesus and His disciples were in Bethany, we’re told, “Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped His feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. Then one of His disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon’s son, who would betray Him, said, ‘Why was this fragrant oil not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?’ This he said, not that he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and had the money box; and he used to take what was put in it.”

a. When people set about to appoint a treasurer over their money, they look for someone who demonstrates the characteristics of honesty and trustworthiness.

b. Judas apparently demonstrated those characteristics OUTWARDLY – but INWARDLY, he was a thief.

b. Although Jesus obviously knew what Judas had been doing all along, apparently the disciples of Jesus were completely unaware that Judas was a thief – embezzling money out of the money box he had been entrusted to keep.

II. Biblical scholars have speculated over the years as to WHY Judas betrayed Jesus, and out of all this speculation has come some rather interesting, and plausible, theories.

A. Some say Judas' love for money was the principal reason for betraying Jesus. But that seems unlikely. He was paid only thirty-pieces of silver.

1. According to Exodus 21:32, thirty-pieces of silver is the price one would pay for a slave who had been gored by an ox. That’s certainly not a very large sum to pay for such a highly prized fugitive as Jesus.

a. It seems Judas was well aware of the threats to Jesus – the Lord had repeatedly warned His disciples that the chief priests and elders of the people wanted to put Him to death.

b. Judas certainly had the information the chief priests and elders of the people needed to arrest the Lord at a time and place where He could be taken easily.

c. Judas knew full well the enemies of Jesus would have paid nearly any price for help in capturing the renegade Galilean. And, if money were his motive, Judas could have negotiated for a MUCH larger reward.
2. Furthermore, Judas attempted to return the money after Jesus was arrested.
   a. If he was only interested in selling out Jesus to His enemies, why would Judas have stayed around to watch the events unfold, and more importantly, why would he try to return the money?
3. And so, the greed theory, while possible, presents some serious unanswered questions.

B. However, it seems that the best explanation for Judas’ betrayal may come from the word, “Iscariot.”
1. Some Biblical scholars believe “Iscariot” is a derivation of the word “Kerioth,” a city in southern Judah said to be the hometown of Judas.
   a. However, there is no clear evidence suggesting Judas was from Kerioth.
   b. If Judas WAS from Kerioth, then he was the only disciple of Jesus from Judah. All the other disciples were Galilean.
2. Other scholars believe the word “Iscariot” is a form of the word “sicarius”—which is translated “dagger-bearer.”
   a. The “sacarii” were a fanatical fringe group of Jewish zealots, who believed intently that God intended for Israel to rule the world.
b. But they also believed that God would not help Israel until they were willing to help themselves.

(1). Therefore, the “sacarii” were committed to a campaign of assault, murder and assassinations against any Jewish political or religious leader who gave allegiance to Rome.

(2). On occasion they would even resort to the assassination of Roman authorities.

(3). They got their name because they were known for carrying a concealed dagger beneath their robes.

(a). Tradition says Barabbas, the man who was released in stead of Jesus, was ALSO a member of the “sacarii,” and had been imprisoned because he had murdered a Roman soldier.

C. Since some scholars believe Judas was a member of this secret society, the BIG question is: What would have prompted Judas to betray Jesus? At the most, Jesus was NEUTRAL toward Rome, and certainly not a Roman sympathizer. So why would Judas turn on Jesus?

1. Judas could clearly see that Jesus had the ability to perform miracles, and would have certainly heard Him teach as no man had ever taught before.

a. Judas certainly saw Jesus as a God-sent teacher; even the long-awaited Messiah – the one ALL Jews were expecting to raise national patriotism and lead the children of Israel in an uprising against Roman oppression.

b. But over time, Judas saw that Jesus had no intentions WHATSOEVER of being THAT kind of leader.

(1). Although Jesus clearly acknowledged Himself to BE the Messiah – the Son of God – He didn’t do what Jews believed the Messiah WOULD do.

(2). Instead, Jesus appealed to men and women everywhere to turn their hearts back to God and prepare themselves for the coming of the kingdom of God.

c. This is why many believe Judas deliberately turned Jesus over to the hands of His enemies.

(1). Judas may have believed that by delivering Jesus into the hands of His enemies, the Lord would be FORCED to act!

(2). Surely Jesus would use His divine powers to free Himself, annihilate His enemies, and launch the military campaign that would result in Israel’s glorious victory over Rome.

d. Rather than allow Jesus to be the kind of Messiah He had come to be, Judas may have simply been trying to get Jesus to fit into the mold of what everyone believed the Messiah should be.
(1). Of course, we know Jesus DIDN’T come to establish an earthly kingdom. He came to establish a SPIRITUAL kingdom.

(2). He NEVER intended to raise an army and reign as King from Jerusalem, but rather reign from heaven as King of kings and Lord of lords within the hearts of those who would truly become His disciples.

e. When Jesus was eventually crucified, Judas may have only then realized the terrible mistake he had made, and ended his life in suicide, grieving over having delivered the very Son of God into the hands of His murderers.

III. Regardless of what motivated Judas – whether he was motivated simply by pure greed or by a desire to see Jesus lead Israel in a campaign against Roman oppression – Judas was still a traitor. But I want us to take special notice of how Jesus demonstrates His love toward His own betrayer.

A. Back in John 13:21-22, the apostle records that Jesus was “troubled in spirit,” and said, “Most assuredly, I say to you, one of you will betray Me. Then the disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom He spoke.”

1. As we mentioned in a previous lesson, Jesus and His disciples were NOT seated in the same manner as depicted in Leonardo da Vinci's painting during the Last Supper – they were NOT seated on chairs at a long table with Jesus in the center.

a. Rather, they were “reclining.” Notice the verses that follow.

2. John continues with the story. John 13:23-26 – He writes, “Now there was leaning on Jesus’ bosom one of His disciples, whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter therefore motioned to him to ask who it was of whom He spoke. Then, leaning back on Jesus’ breast, he said to Him, ‘Lord, who is it?’ Jesus answered, ‘It is he to whom I shall give a piece of bread when I have dipped it.’ And having dipped the bread, He gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.”

a. Jesus and His disciples were all reclining around a low table, eating in the customary manner, leaning on the left elbow which left the right hand free to eat with.

b. When reclining in this manner, a man’s head was almost literally in the breast of the person who was reclining to his left.

c. That would place John, the author of this gospel, on Jesus’ right – meaning John’s head could actually rest on the breast of Jesus. (see verse 23)

(1). This is why John was able to speak to Jesus privately.

And since Peter was able to speak to John privately,

Peter was probably leaning on John’s breast.
d. But where would that put Judas? Ironically, for Jesus to be close enough to Judas to speak privately to HIM, and close enough to hand HIM bread that had been dipped in the bowl, Jesus may have actually been leaning against the breast of His betrayer.

3. If Jesus WAS actually leading against the breast of His betrayer, that tells us quite A LOT about the love Jesus had for Judas.
   a. According to Jewish custom, the place of HIGHEST honor at a meal was immediately to the LEFT of the host – it was the place reserved for the most INTIMATE of friends.
   b. And that MAY have been the very place Jesus had Judas sit – the place of highest honor reserved for the closest of friends.

IV. Only Judas and the Lord know what went through the mind of Judas as he took his place beside the Savior he was about the betray.

A. However, knowing the power of Jesus’ love to soften even the most mercenary of traitors, Satan quickly steps in to make sure his plans are not thwarted. John 13:27a – We’re told, “Now after the piece of bread, Satan entered him.”

1. Satan couldn’t have entered Judas unless Judas made room in his own heart to receive him.
a. Therefore, Jesus, knowing all hope was lost, simply told Judas, “What you do, do quickly.” (John 13:27b)

2. This would have been the perfect opportunity for Jesus to reveal the betrayer’s identity to everyone in the room – and yet, that’s the very thing he did not do.

a. Even though Jesus told John the betrayer would be, “he to whom I shall give a piece of bread when I have dipped it,” and then proceeded to give it to Judas, John apparently didn’t catch on.

b. The rest of this passage in John 13 says, (John 13:28-29)

> “But no one at the table knew for what reason He said this to him (“what you do, do quickly”). For some thought, because Judas had the money box, that Jesus had said to him, ‘Buy those things we need for the feast,’ or that he should give something to the poor.”

B. Would YOU be able to handle the situation in the way Jesus did?

1. Would you INTENTIONALLY and DELIBERATELY give YOUR betrayer the place of honor?

b. Would YOU have seated your betrayer so close to you that you could literally lean on their breast?
2. Would you have let your betrayer know you had unfolded their plot, but at the same time, do it in such a way that no one else in the room would even suspect them?

C. Sadly, even the gracious, loving and gentle manner in which Jesus exposed Judas failed to impact the betrayer’s heart.

1. Like Pharaoh during the days of Moses, Judas’ heart remains hardened – unyielding and unchanged.

2. And so, John tells us (John 13:30), “Having received the piece of bread, he (Judas) then went out immediately. And it was night.”

   a. Judas left the company of Jesus and His beloved friends for the last time as a disciple – he will return in a few hours to the Garden of Gethsemane as a betrayer.

   b. He will never again enjoy the close companionship of Jesus and the other disciples.

   c. All alone, Judas slips into the darkness of the night – far from the Savior who had given him love and acceptance.

CONCLUSION:

I. There are several wonderful lessons we can learn from the way Jesus demonstrated His love toward His betrayer. But let’s focus our attention on just two.
A. The first lesson we need to learn (and probably one of the most DIFFICULT lessons we need to learn) is to accept offenses without holding a grudge – without becoming filled with bitter resentment.

1. Remember, Jesus washed the feet of the VERY MAN who would be His betrayer, and He fed a morsel of bread to the VERY LIPS that would later kiss His cheek to identify Him to His captors.

   a. Romans 12:14-21 – This is why the apostle Paul wrote:

   "Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. Be of the same mind toward one another. Do not set your mind on high things, but associate with the humble. Do not be wise in your own opinion. Repay no one evil for evil. Have regard for good things in the sight of all men. If it is possible, as much as depends on you, live peaceably with all men. Beloved, do not avenge yourselves, but rather give place to wrath; for it is written, 'Vengeance is Mine, I will repay,' says the Lord. Therefore 'If your enemy is hungry, feed him; If he is thirsty, give him a drink; For in so doing you will heap coals of fire on his head. Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good."

2. How do YOU handle offenses and wrongs committed against YOU?
a. Do you plot to get even when you’ve been wronged, or do you turn the matter over the Lord and let Him deal with it?

b. Do you look for opportunities to gossip about or slander someone who’s offended you, or do you try to speak well of them?

c. Do you become angry at some offense and leave the church, or do you attempt to clear up the matter and make peace once again?

3. Jesus clearly accepted offenses – even the betrayal of one of His most trusted disciples – and yet the Lord didn’t hold a grudge, or allow the incident to turn into bitter resentment.

   a. All of us who want to have the Mind of Christ will do the same.

B. The second lesson we need to learn is to genuinely forgive and forget.

   1. Ephesians 4:31-32 – In writing to the Ephesian church, the apostle Paul said, “Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice. And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ forgave you.”

      a. The manner in which you are to forgive others is the same way “God in Christ forgave you.”
b. How does God forgive YOU? He forgives you unconditionally, without any reservation, blotting it completely from His memory – just as if the offense had never been committed.

2. But how many times do we hear someone say, “I can FORGIVE, but I can never FORGET.”

a. When someone says this, what are they REALLY saying? They’re REALLY saying, “I can never FORGET, therefore I can never really FORGIVE!”

b. Of course, being human, we can’t completely erase the memory of some offense from our minds – I wish we could.

   (1). But while we may not be able to ERASE the memory, we can keep the memory of that offense from interfering with our relationship with the offender.

c. Jeremiah 31:34 – hundreds of years before Christ was born, the Old Testament prophet Jeremiah spoke about the way God will forgive the sins of those of us who will be under the NEW covenant. God said, “For I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin I will remember no more.”

   (1). Did you hear that? God said He will remember our sins no more.
(2). God doesn’t suddenly develop a lapse of memory when it comes to our sins – they aren’t erased from His memory any more than sins against us are erased from ours.

(3). But when God forgives, He deliberately chooses to NEVER REMEMBER or RECALL those past sins and hold them against us.

(4). We can do the same thing. While we can never forget the offense, we can deliberately choose to NEVER RECALL or REPLAY those past sins against us over and over in our minds.

(5). We can put memory of offenses and sins against us behind us forever.

3. That’s what Jesus did with Judas. Jesus didn’t go to the cross cursing the name of Judas. He died to forgive the sins of EVERY Judas – of every person who betrays the Savior’s love – including you and me.

II. It’s been said that forgiveness is the fragrance a rose leaves behind on the heel that crushed it.

A. If that’s so, could there be a fragrance sweeter than the one of Jesus reclining next to the VERY ONE who raised his heel against the Savior?
1. Many things have been said AGAINST Christ, but He ALWAYS practiced what He preached.
   a. And the final moments Jesus spent with His betrayer are a PERFECT example of His exhortation to “love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you.” (Matthew 5:44)
   b. This is something Jesus did to the very end of His life, even as He hung on that shameful cross and prayed, “Father, forgive them; for they do not know what they are doing.” (Luke 23:34)

B. How do you respond when the heel of a betrayer comes down on you?
   1. No one wants to be trampled under foot any more than the rose does.
   2. But when it happens, let the example of Jesus guide your response.
      a. Let the fragrance of forgiveness come pouring out, reaching even the nostrils of the one whose heel has been raised against you.
      b. In doing this, you will “Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus.”

III. If you find it difficult or impossible to forgive others, perhaps it’s because you’ve never really KNOWN forgiveness. You can’t really GIVE forgiveness unless you’ve first learned what it’s like to RECEIVED forgiveness.
A. Are you still carrying around the guilt of YOUR sins. If that’s so, then take advantage of God’s FORGIVENESS this very day. Remember, Jesus died to give it to you.

1. If you’re not a child of God...

2. If you are a child of God and haven’t lived as you should...
